

- Provides your teenage patrons with an outstanding online library home.
- Integrates seamlessly with your existing website.
- Eye-catching, interactive features; ability for teens to submit comments and reviews.

Available to All Libraries

Your primary library website does not have to be provided through Piper Mountain Webs. Simply link your teen menu button to your new TeenPak start page.

Easy to Use

Though content for some of the TeenPak pages is provided by our professional staff, other pages can be accessed by your staff to add, edit, and delete content as needed. You will use the same user-friendly content management system that is available to Piper Mountain's library website customers across the country.

Shared Content

One of the great things about TeenPak is that you don't have to worry about keeping all of the content up-to-date. On many of your TeenPak pages, the content is provided automatically by our professional staff. Our content is reviewed, written and/or approved by librarians, and in some cases, teenagers themselves.

Interactive Flash Components

Let's face it - there is a lot of competition for a teenager's attention. To be noticed, your content should be presented in a visually compelling manner. Our flash-based components, like the interactive bookshelf and the media wall, definitely achieve this goal. Plus, TeenPak allows teenagers to participate by submitting comments – a feature they have come to expect.

Usage Statistics

Your TeenPak pages will be tied to a Google Analytics account, allowing you to easily monitor and track the usage and popularity of your pages.

Online Community

All TeenPak libraries are part of an online forum for sharing ideas about teen programs, TeenPak content ideas, and more.

Affordable

We work with public libraries exclusively, and are very aware of budget constraints. The TeenPak package is very affordable.

Outstanding Customer Service

Your TeenPak package is backed by the same friendly and responsive customer service team as our full website packages. In a recent customer service survey, our public library customers rated our service as outstanding, and 100% of respondents confirmed that they would recommend our library website solutions to others.
